

Dynamics

(from Greek dynamis "force")

Process of change, or evolution, resulting from action of forces: the dynamics of unequal exchange produces a centre-periphery structure. Dynamic models link changes with the forces that generate them, whereas kinetic models describe changes without reference to forces. In human geography, the term dynamics implies a notion of change, and not a mere move (traffic or mobility).

Bibliographie

HYPERGE